

ROSE, THORN, BUD

Today I finally had a dinner with my professor!

Tuesday 14/07/15

Called my cousin, who I hadn't heard from in 3 years.

Tuesday 14/07/15

Tonight I didn't go out. I curled up in bed with my book and read for four hours. Don't regret a single moment!

Rose Finishing up my internship today, so glad to have met such wonderful inspiring people so passionate about their lives and the work they do... and to work in such a vibrant city with the opportunity to do so many fun things.

Thorn this summer has proven to be much less productive than I envisioned, not for lack of ability or time but for lack of effort

Bud the past year told me a lot about who I am, and the past few weeks have told me a lot about what I want out of life, and I am confident that I will start to accomplish my long-held but newly-resolved goals in the coming year

So this was a crazy story. I woke up this morning and found that a cat had curled up beside me!

Today I got really stressed at my psych lab. Had to do a TON of data cleaning, and I felt pretty burnt out after it.

Looking forward to going to NYC tomorrow.
